Subject: Query about font size in emails

Dear all

Sorry to bother you with this but could anybody who has the time tell me whether my emails (such as this) arrive in a tiny font or whether they appear normal. One of my recipients has complained that when he gets them they appear tiny in his email client (he uses hotmail online, I think). I send in plain text and I imagined that the way they look depends on the recipient but perhaps something is creeping in my end.

Thanks

Paul
